

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. INTRODUCTION.

THE "Catalogue of Tombes of London" was published by Major Payne Fisher in 1668—two years after the Great Fire. The names of the churches where the inscriptions were evident are entirely omitted by Fisher, rendering his work in its original state comparatively useless.

In its present revised form the Catalogue is arranged alphabetically. The original entries in Fisher's catalogue have been retained, while many additions have been made to the work from the best editions of Stow's "Survey of London," etc.

Fisher's original work may be identified by the absence of the name of the church, or where it is added in square brackets. The remainder of the entries in this catalogue are additions made from the sources named. Further particulars of the inscriptions will generally be found on reference to Stow's "Survey of London" under the name of the church.

The number of churches in the City and Liberties of London (exclusive of S. Paul's Cathedral) that existed before the Fire was 108. Of these, thirteen within the City, and nine within the Liberties thereof, survived the Fire, while eighty-six churches were destroyed. Of the latter number fifty-one churches were rebuilt, and the remainder of the parishes, thirty-five in number, were annexed to the new churches.

A most useful list of "Printed parish registers," by Dr. Marshall, will be found in The Genealogist for July 1885, (New Series, vol. ii., No. 7,) which may be advantageously referred to for information on this subject.

The following table has been carefully compiled from various sources. The dates of registers are taken from the Return of Parish Registers in England and Wales.

Table showing the Churches within the City and Liberties of London before and after the Fire of 1666.

. The names of Churches destroyed by the Fire and rebuilt are printed in ordinary type; those which survived the Fire within the City and Liberties are printed in black type; and those Churches destroyed by the Fire and not rebuilt, of which the parishes were annexed to others, are printed in italics.

Printed Anno. MDCLXVIII.

SIR,

I Have seen this your Synopsis, by which I guess at the full proportion of your Noble, and indeed, most necessary design, since to quote that Authentick Expression of your Friend, the Alderman. I hold it as a Piece of as necessary Piety, to repair and reedifie the collapsed memories of so many worthy Patriots, as almost to Rebuild the City; by whose Beneficence the City gradually arrived formerly to so tall a pitch and stature.

Sir, I must confess I (among many Thousands) have read and admired your sublime Productions in most happy Heroicks, which have diffused your Name and Fame into those Countreys you have personally seen, to the Benefit and Advantage of your Observation. And now let me tell you, as your Latin Elucubrations have made you famous abroad, so this Great and weighty Work you are embarked in, will make you highly esteemed at Home, especially among such, whose Interest and Honor it is to Buoy up the shipwrack'd and ruin'd Memories of their Ancestors.

I have no more, but cordially to wish, that so Generous and Publick a Design may meet with such suitable success, as may principally conduce to that great end, for which this Piece is to be compiled: and collaterally, such influential advantages of your own, as may proportionably stand in competition with the Scope and Latitude of so brave an undertaking. This is the wish of

Sir,

January 14.
1667.

Your true Friend,
and faithful Servant,

S^r Hen. Hianson, Baronet.
